Foreword

Between the covers of this book, you will find the memories of our class—once more relived. It is a story of our classes, clubs, sports, and projects which have played a vital role in our school lives and has prepared us for the future. In the coming years, many of us will be scattered to different parts of the world and others will gain wealth and fame; but this book will bind us in unity and reward us with its treasures in our retiring years.

Our Class History

Let's turn back the hands of time. Ah, here we are. "Greenies!" This we were called by our upperclassmen as we eagerly elected officers and planned a trip to Hershey.

"Sophisticated Sophomores" we were called when we came back the next fall. We sold initials, taffy, magazines, and sponsored some skating parties to increase our treasury. Another trip to Hershey climaxed the year.

The "Enthusiastic Juniors" held bake sales and dances, sold chances and peanuts, and produced "The Showboat Minstrel," our Junior Production. These projects enabled us to finance the annual Junior-Senior Prom.

At last we reached our goal. Seniors! We elected class leaders, sold candy, candles, and sponsored many other activities to pay for our yearbook. Becoming seniors filled us with pride. Underclassmen respected us, and teachers treated us as responsible adults.

As we close your portals, dear Cone-maugh, we will make you proud of your 1961 graduates.

Returning to school this year we dived into the whirlpool of activities which are always associated with the Junior Class. A special enthusiasm was felt this year because our sights were set on one target—the Junior-Senior Prom.

First of all, we elected home room representatives and class officers. Immediately afterwards, we started fund raising projects such as selling magazines, chances, peanuts, Christmas tape kits, and Christmas trees. We also earned the needed funds by having bake sales, dances, and the assessment of dues.

Working tirelessly on our projects, we lost track of time; and before we knew it our Prom was just around the corner.

The Prom night was a night of laughter, dancing and good times that we will long remember as a part of our high school days.

We know that without the help of our advisor, Mr. Harriton, our Prom could not have been accomplished. The class sincerely thanks him for his time and patience.

The summer fun was over, and it was back to school for the 37 students of the Sophomore class. It was fun to see all of our friends—the students and teachers, back from vacation and ready to work.

The first of our duties was to elect the homeroom representatives. Mr. Wertz's homeroom elected Carole Kawchak, James McCall, and Larry Gasior. Mr. Simala's homeroom elected Judy Salem, Geraldine Scott, and James Niepoky. A week later this group with the help of our class advisors nominated candidates for the class offices.

After the election we held our first class meeting, and the main topic was raising money. It was not too soon to start this fund for the Junior Prom is only a year away. The class voted on a sub sale to be held in the home economics room. This venture went off so well that it not only boosted our morale but also our treasury account. A Halloween Party in the recreation room of the Sacred Heart School was a social event to be remembered. We held four bake sales, two each semester. A talent show and a car wash in the spring completed our money-raising projects for this year.

We had a very busy and happy year with everyone co-operating with our advisors, Mr. Simala and Mr. Wertz. Their patience and help made our school year successful.

Summer of 1960 was now but a memory. The school doors were once more flung open, and students strutted down the halls to their newly assigned rooms with an air of anticipation. The 1960-61 school year had just begun! We were far more excited this first day than ever before because we had made the grade. We were freshmen!

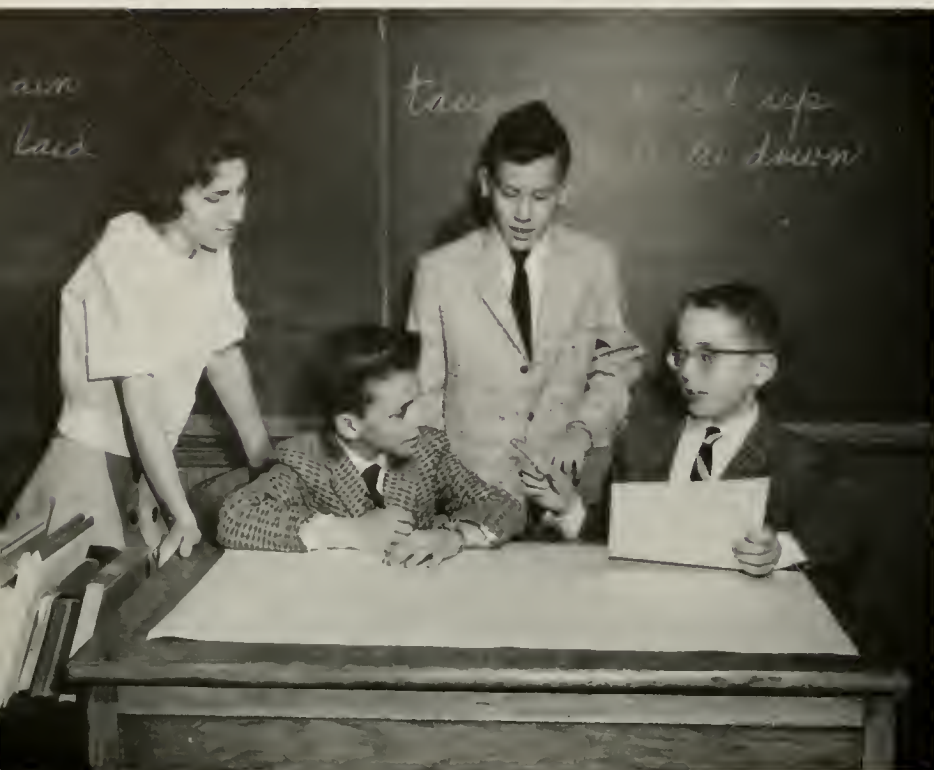

This year got off to a fine start. We met all our old friends and were soon briefed on all the back news. We became acquainted with new teachers and were quickly started on new subjects in new rooms with "new" books.

Then came the big election of 1960. Out of 53 students in the freshmen class we were to select four class officers and six representatives. The candidates were busy "politiking." Everyone was excited about the whole affair. Our representatives were: Joe Calpin, Mary Barrett, Linda Gossard, Nancy Mateer, Richard Yewcic and John Stecik.

Now we have completed our first year as "freshies." We hope that years from now we can always look back with pleasant memories on our freshman year.

After this job was finished, we elected our officers. The following were elected: Larry Stelmack, president; Samuel Stehnach, vice-president;

John Szwast, secretary; and Karen Yuhas, treasurer.

We held a skating party which turned out fairly profitable. In the spring we took a field trip that was very educational and successful.

Our class wishes to show our appreciation to our sponsors, Mr. Fesko and Mr. Slavich for their untiring efforts in our class projects.

The first day in Junior High School was exciting! Changing classes, more than one teacher, and going to the library were completely unfamiliar to us. We were looking forward to new classes such as gym, shop, and home economics. We liked the idea of having officers and activities. We haven't had many activities. We had a skating party and a Halloween Party so far this year. Being around the older students has made us feel more mature. All in all we have enjoyed this year in Junior High, and we are looking forward to future years in Conemaugh High School.

The representatives for 202 were: Larry Kush, Robert Koontz, and Joyce Blamar. The representatives for 204 were: Joanne Salvaggio, James Reese, and David Swansinger.

Orchestra

Orchestra is the term applied to a body of instrumental performers in which the violin is prominent. More recently, the name has been given to a band of musicians that performs in theatres, concert halls, and other places of public amusement.

Our orchestra was made up of the following:
Woodwinds: Saxophone, and Clarinets
Brass: Trumpets, and Trombones
Percussion: Drums, and Cymbals

The following were a few things that our orchestra took part in this school term: The Senior Play, Junior Production, and the most important activity for the seniors, Commencement.

Pep Band

The Pep Band was the most active music organization in our school. It performed during the football season to develop school spirit. There were twenty members in this group and their repertoire was varied. Their lively music encouraged the students to attend the games.

Music Has Charm

Music is one of the basic activities of our school life. It helps to develop talents, and teaches the students to work together, gaining leadership and knowledge.

One of the important organizations of the music department is the Girls' Chorus. The chorus is open to all senior high school girls who are interested. The girls spent many long hours during activities periods and after school practicing both their new and old song arrangements. At Christmas time the girls sang for the Christmas Assembly which everyone enjoyed immensely. One of the other organizations of the music department is the marching band.

Although the band of Conemaugh was unfortunate at the beginning of the year not to have a director, they were able to secure the assistance of Mr. Signarino as temporary director. By hard work and ingenuity on the part of all members, they managed to win third place in the Johnstown Halloween Parade.

Activities throughout the year included the sale of Christmas cards, and "Le Bal De Noel" among various other activities. The band supported the team during the football season. So despite the setbacks at the beginning of the year, the band came through with a prosperous and enjoyable season that will not be forgotten easily.

Homeroom Representatives

At the beginning of the school year each homeroom chose three students to represent them.

The duty of these representatives was to nominate officers for the student election and to help lead their classmates for the year.

Upon the senior homeroom representatives, along with the class officers, fell the responsibility of selecting a cover for their yearbook.

We, the students, feel sure that we have made an excellent choice in selecting these representatives.

Future Nurses Club

This was our first year as a club. Mrs. Fesko, our school nurse, agreed to be our advisor. After getting organized, we began working toward a trip to tour the Philadelphia Presbyterian Hospital where the Future Nurses observed an operation. To finance this trip, we sold Christmas bows and band-aids and went caroling on Christmas Eve. Mrs. Fesko engaged many speakers at our meetings, among whom was a graduate nurse, a man from the Rehabilitation Center, and a community nurse. They aided us in determining our career in the medical field. Also, Mrs. Fesko taught us to read a thermometer and to roll bandages. The Future Nurses of America have certainly had a successful year!

Pep Club

The first meeting of the Pep Club was held in September. Electing the following officers: Elayne Labosky, president; Linda Locher, vice president; Ruth Pilot, secretary; and Annie Jones, treasurer.

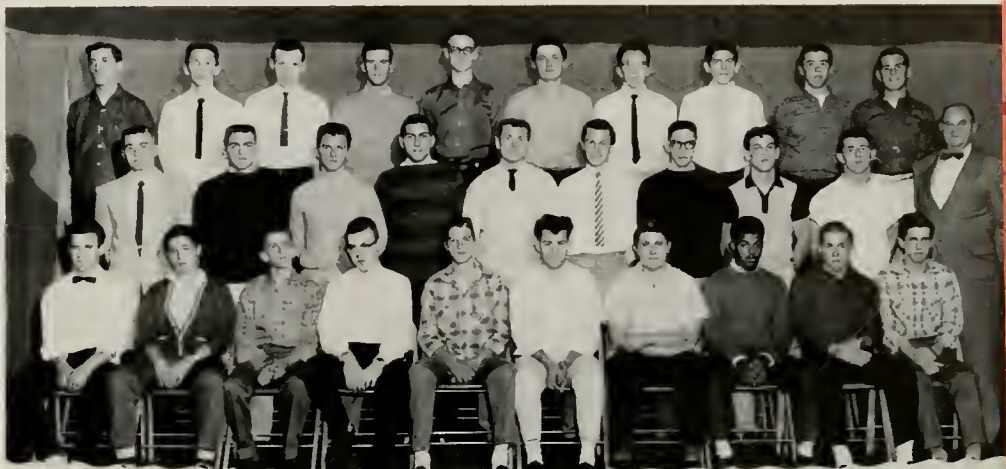

In order to brighten the school spirit during football season the Pep Club went to the football games in a group to form a cheering section to give the players support. Selling icicles was the first project of the year. This was done so that a Christmas party could be given for the players at the end of football season. Through the efforts of every member of the club, the project was a success.

During basketball games the Pep Club supported the team by huge turnouts and enthusiastic cheering.

The advisor for the Pep Club was Mr. Fesko.

Hi-Y

The purpose of the Hi-Y is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school, and community, high standards of Christian character.

This has been the chief goal of the members of the Conemaugh Hi-Y in the past years, and the year 1960-61 was no exception.

The officers chosen to lead the club were elected and proved worthy of their position. They were:

President	Bill Brett
Vice President	Bill Cekada
Secretary	James Fisher
Treasurer	Rodger Reese
Chaplain	Larry Gossard
Advisor	Mr. Wertz

As a result of the co-operation of the members, the Hi-Y completed another successful year.

Key Club

The Key Club started an eventful year by selecting new members. The officers were as follows: president, Stanley Kowal; vice president, Andy Zapp; secretary, Bill Brett; treasurer, Ronald Rovanseck.

The objectives of this organization were to develop initiative and leadership, and to provide experience in living and working together. Our motto was "We Build."

The club strived to carry out school activities and charity work by collecting toys for tots and distributing well-filled food baskets for the needy during Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Our club advisor was Mr. Riblett.

Football

When the 1960 football season approached, Conemaugh High had a team of which they could well be proud.

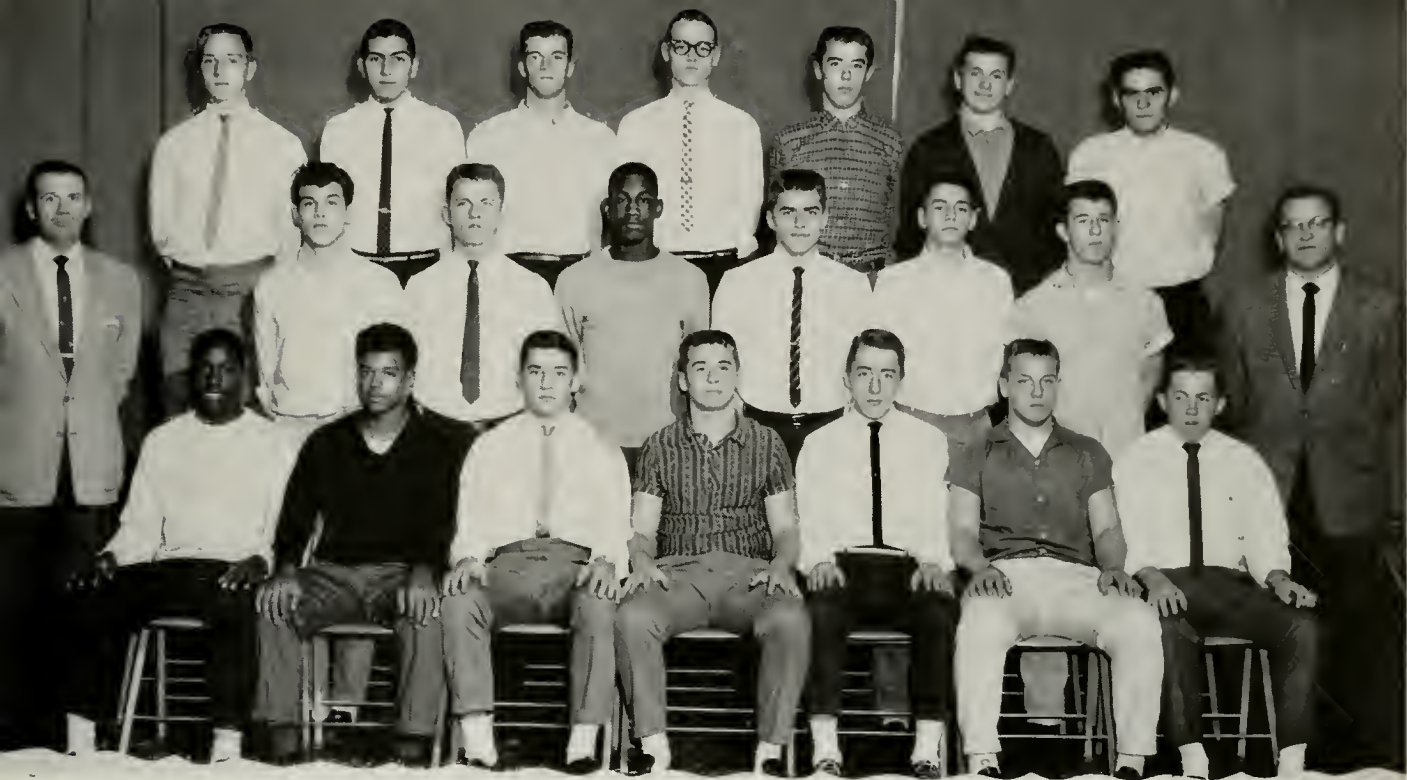

Coach Yewcic had been having two practice sessions a day, and the boys were really shaping up.

Two returning lettermen and a sturdy group of boys made up the Horses for '60. Although we lost 6, won 2, and tied 1, the spirit of the boys never dimmed; and it was a fight to the finish. They were proud to have Nick Yewcic named to the First Team of the all Scholastic Squad, but they were proud of all the boys for their fine playing and undying spirit during the season. They were especially thankful to Mr. Yewcic and Mr. Slavich for giving them a team to remember.

The football managers, Mike Labosky, Bill Brett, Paul Yewcic, Bob Brett, and Jim Albert polish equipment.

Varsity C

At the start of the football season, the Varsity C club was organized. Because twenty athletes had participated in the required number of games, they were eligible for membership in the club.

The following officers were elected to head the organization: Richard Yuhas, president; Nick Yewcie, vice-president; and Ronald Rovanssek, secretary-treasurer. Advisors of the club were Mr. Yewcie and Mr. Slavich.

Each of the ten lettermen who graduated this year received a jacket and a letter. Jackets and letters were bought by the club for the two senior cheerleaders, and letters for the underclassmen who had earned them.

Money raising projects to accommodate the expenses of these items were held throughout the year. Submarine sales, which were highly successful, and skating parties headed the list of activities. Ham and turkey raffles, programs sold at football games, and dances also helped to build the treasury.

Mr. Yewcie looks over the football schedule with Mr. Slavich.

Cheerleaders

Rah, Rah, Rah, Sis Boom Bah! The cheerleaders began another busy year. They elected one new regular, Joyce Gibson, and three substitutes; Carol Mandrick, Mary Pudliner, and Nancy Lint. Though the Cheerleaders don't actually play any games themselves, they play a big role in keeping up the morale of the team. They felt every bump and bruise along with the team, and when they were praised, the Cheerleaders gloried in it.

To look behind the scenes of the football field and basketball court—will the girls ever forget the many submarines they made, along with the Varsity C to earn money for jackets.

We cheered when we won, and we cheered when we lost; but win or lose, there was never a moment that we were not proud of our team, and proud to be Conemaugh Cheerleaders.

Cheerleaders—Kneeling: Mary Pudliner, Nancy Lint, Carol Mandrick, Ruth Pilot, Georgia Koterba. Standing: Kay Papuga, Judy Yasika, Joyce Gibson, and Annette McGanka.

Cagers

The basketball season finally arrived. We were a green, immature team, lacking experience and height. What we didn't lack was the spirit and the willingness to play ball the right way.

We hoped to complete the season with a satisfactory record. The cheerleaders and the Pep Club members kept the players fired for a victory. Though winning was our main goal, playing good ball was the outstanding characteristic of our team.

Junior Varsity

The Junior Varsity team closed a successful season this year. Coached by Mr. Slavich, they proved again and again their superior basketball ability against many opponents. Scheduling their contests before the main Varsity games and sometimes participating with the Varsity, the boys gained valuable experience for the next season. They all look forward to being next year's Varsity players.

Baseball

With the coming of spring, 14 energetic young men turned their thoughts to the baseball diamond. Under the supervision of the coaches, Mr. Yewcic and Mr. Slavich, the boys spent many hard working hours on the practice field. This tuned them for a successful season. The combination of a strong pitching staff, hard hitters, and good fielding made many of our opponents shiver at the thought of the coming games with the Horses. The experience gained by the underclassmen can assure Mr. Yewcic and Mr. Slavich many successful seasons in the future.
